If you join after July 1, the fee for the current year will be reduced by 50%. In the following years, the full fee will be apply again.

Individual and family memberships are available. With a family membership, each member of the family is an individual member of the association, paying a common family membership fee. Family membership is available for one or two adults living in a marriage or cohabitation union, as well as all their children up to the age of 18. This period can be extended by one year upon request, up to the age of 27 at the latest, if they do not yet have their own income. With the passing of these deadlines the family membership turns into individual memberships as long as no cancellation in due time has been received.

On request, a reduced individual membership fee is available for pupils, apprentices and students up to the age of 27. Appropriate proof must be presented. The member is required to inform the treasurer when they are no longer a pupil, apprentice or students. In this case, the reduced fee automatically converts to the full fee.

By Family membership, we need the data from all members (such as names, date of birth, Email) and the original signatures from every member!

All natural persons can become members. Membership is to be requested in written form to the board of the club. Persons who have not completed the 18th year of age need to enclose the written consent of their legal representative. The board decides over the issue of membership by majority vote. A rejection requires no explanation.

All new members, founding members excluded, have to go through a year of hospitation before becoming a full member. That time span begins with the date of the request for membership. Potential objections by members can be presented to the board in written form. Whether a new member turns into a full member is finally decided by the board. A rejection requires no explanation. Members in hospitation are not eligible to vote in a convention of members and cannot be elected.

Every member is responsible to support the goals of the association, to act according to the guiding principles and to pay in due time. Changes of address have to be communicated to the board immediately. Accruing cost due to non-compliance are to be covered by the respective member. Cost due to the legal and extra-legal support are to be covered by the respective member. Decrees by the assembly of members are binding, except if incongruent with law.
